1. Project/Initiative/Event Name: Community Job and Career Fair

Description: The community job and career fair is a collaborative effort of local businesses and educational entities to provide opportunities for job seekers to apply for positions matching their skillset and for businesses to recruit potential employees.

Goal/Expected Outcome: The common goal of the “fair” is for employers to highlight their businesses and employment opportunities while recruiting potential employees from the student and public sectors. This “fair” provides knowledge to individuals seeking employment of local needs and opportunity to apply for available positions.

Planning and execution of a Jobs/Career Community Fair annually in one of the area high schools in early May (a successful fair was held May 8, 2019 at Wilmington High School in Wilmington, Ohio). The Business Advisory Council in partnership with the Clinton and Fayette Chambers of Commerce, the local Ohio Means Jobs agency, and area school districts plan and lead this community event. High school students have an opportunity to learn about both short-term job openings and career paths available in local business and industry. Families and members of the community are also invited to meet with area employers to learn about current and future local job and career opportunities.

2. Project/Initiative/Event Name: Student led production of virtual tours of area businesses

Description: Virtual tours of local industry will be captured in video form and shared via social media and websites.

Goal/Expected Outcome: Increase public knowledge of local businesses and industry and to share the employment needs.

The Clinton-Fayette Business Advisory Council is collaborating with a member district and local businesses/community partners to complete a student-initiated production of a virtual tour of area businesses and introduction of employment opportunities available within the community through recorded video interviews with members of local employers. The council is currently working on a virtual tour video interview with one area business, with hopes of later expanding to other area businesses and being able to curate a library of online virtual tours and video interviews with prospective employers in the communities served by the Clinton-Fayette Business Advisory Council. The BAC intends to upload virtual tours and video interviews on the Southern Ohio ESC and district websites and/or social media outlets.

3. Project/Initiative/Event Name: “Hometown Opportunity” Website (official name TBD)

Description: A website designed to highlight job opportunities and businesses that would also serve as a springboard for individuals to upload resumes and inquire about specific employment options throughout the counties of Fayette and Clinton.

Goal/Expected Outcome: A subcommittee will look into the development of a website and ensure the efforts are not duplicating work being done already in the counties. One member hosts a similar link on the city economic page in Fayette County so this webpage may utilize the current content to expand to include Clinton County also. The Dayton Development Coalition will be in contact to share their platform. Leaders will meet to continue discussion regarding workforce development and the future of this project.

The BAC is partnering with community agencies and business leaders to develop a website platform for the community members including students to utilize to gain knowledge about the businesses in the area and job/employment opportunities. Individuals will be able to upload their resumes and apply for positions through this website.

Development of a Curriculum to Instill Employment Skills: Identify goals and develop a comprehensive plan for how employability skills will be taught and reinforced in kindergarten through grade 12. Provide recommendations on how the employment skills identified above will be integrated into and taught through existing curricula and/or the creation of new curricula. This plan should include both classroom instruction, as well as activities, events and programs. Address how existing programs will be sustained and new, innovative programs will be initiated and supported.
